Index of Subjects

Burkholderia cepacia respiratory tract acquisition: epidemiology and molecular characterization of a large nosocomial outbreak, 309

Campylobacter, a mixed outbreak of cryptosporidium and, infection associated with a private water supply, 303
Campylobacter, presence of Salmonella spp. and, spp. in shellfish, 147
Campylobacters, resistotyping of, fulfilling a need, 170
Cats, parasite prevalence in free-ranging farm, Felis silvestris catus, 217
Cholera, an outbreak of, from food served on an international aircraft, 9
Cholera, epidemic, in Guatemala, 1993: transmission of a newly introduced epidemic strain by street vendors, 121
Cryptosporidium, a mixed outbreak of, and campylobacter infection associated with a private water supply, 303

Dugbe virus, investigation of tick-borne viruses as pathogens of humans in South Africa and evidence of, infection in a patient with prolonged thrombocytopenia, 353

Enterovirus, relative abundance of, serotypes in sewage differs from that in patients: clinical and epidemiological implications, 91
Escherichia coli, prevalence of the *eae*A gene in verotoxigenic, strains from dairy cattle in Southwest Ontario, 1

Food-borne risk, estimating the economic benefits of avoiding: is 'willingness to pay' feasible? 285
Foot-and-mouth disease, failure of vaccination to prevent outbreaks of, 363

Glomerulo-nephritis, acute poststreptococcal, in general practice: the contribution of infection to its onset and course, 193
Gonococci, characteristics of, isolated from men with urethritis in Dubai, 15
Gut microbial flora, micromorphometrical analysis of rodent related (SPF) and unrelated (human), in germfree mice by digital image processing, 35

Haemophilus influenzae, carriage of multiple ribotypes of non-encapsulated, in Aboriginal infants with otitis media, 177
Haemophilus influenzae, differing antibody responses to, type b after meningitis or epiglottitis, 21
Hepatitis B, the transmission dynamics of, in the UK: a mathematical model for evaluating costs and effectiveness of immunization programmes, 71

Influenza, impact of, and respiratory syncytial virus on mortality in England and Wales from January 1975 to December 1990, 51

Jenner, the, Bicentenary; still uses for smallpox vaccine, 231
Johne's disease, an abattoir-based study of the prevalence of subclinical, in adult cattle in south west England, 373

Legionellosis linked with a hotel car park – how many were infected? 186

Measles immunity and response to revaccination among secondary school children in Cumbria, 65
Meningococcal disease, usefulness of the DNA-fingerprinting pattern and the multilocus enzyme electrophoresis profile in the assessment of outbreaks of, 103
Mycobacterium avium, genetic characterization of, isolates recovered from humans and animals in Australia, 42

Neisseria meningitidis, epidemics of serogroup A, of subgroup III in Africa, 1989–94, 115
Norwalk-like virus, outbreaks of, -associated gastroenteritis traced to shellfish: coexistence of two genotypes in one specimen, 339
Norwalk virus, an epidemiological investigation of, infection in South Africa, 204

Parvovirus B19, a school outbreak of, infection investigated using salivary antibody assays, 331

Rabies, the development and use of a vaccinia-rabies recombinant oral vaccine for the control of wildlife; a link between Jenner and Pasteur, 235
Respiratory syncytial virus, impact of influenza and, on mortality in England and Wales from January 1975 to December 1990, 51

Salmonella, a hospital outbreak of, food poisoning due to inadequate deep-fat frying, 155
Salmonella, consecutive, outbreaks traced to the same bakery, 161
Salmonella enterica, specific detection of, serotype Enteritidis using the polymerase chain reaction, 137
Salmonella enterica, virulence and genotype stability of, serovar Berta during a natural outbreak, 267
Salmonella, foodborne outbreaks caused by, in Italy, 1991–4, 257
Salmonella, presence of, spp. and Campylobacter spp. in shellfish, 147
Salmonella typhi, the concurrent prevalence of chloramphenicol-sensitive and multidrug-resistant, in Vellore, S. India, 225
Schistosoma mansoni, do intestinal parasites interfere with the seroepidemiologic surveillance of, infection, 323
Serpulina hyodysenteriae, pigs experimentally infected with, can be protected from developing swine dysentery by feeding them a high digestible diet, 207

Shigella sonnei, phage typing and drug resistance of, isolated in England and Wales, 295
Shigellosis, usefulness of ribotyping in a molecular epidemiology study of, 127
Smallpox, the Jenner Bicentenary; still uses for, vaccine, 231
Staphylococcus aureus, nasal carriage of enterotoxin-producing, among restaurant workers in Kuwait City, 319
Streptococcal, acute post, glomerulo-nephritis in general practice: the contribution of infection to its onset and course, 193

Vibrio cholerae* O1, changing epidemiology of cholera due to, and O139 Bengal in Dhaka, Bangladesh, 275

Tick-borne viruses, investigation of, as pathogens of humans in South Africa and evidence of Dugbe virus infection in a patient with prolonged thrombocytopenia, 353
Toxoplasma, risk factors for recent, infection in pregnant women in Naples, 347

Vaccinia, the development and use of a, -rabies recombinant oral vaccine for the control of wildlife rabies; a link between Jenner and Pasteur, 235
Vaccine, non-replicating expression vectors: applications in, development and gene therapy, 241

Yersinia enterocolitica, association between clinical presentation, biogroups and virulence attributes of, strains in human diarrhoeal disease, 27
